The report as it stands is the conjoint work of the members of the committee. For the sake of completeness, however, several sections were written by others ... Thus the committee received a report on the clinical features and treatment of anaerobic infection of wounds and gas gangrene, by Dr. John Fraser ... Dr. Alexander Fleming prepared a summary ... on the 'seric infections of wounds,' while Major W. J. Tulloch

Baden.

When the boundary between the French and American zones of occupation was settled in 1945, the German states of Baden and Württemberg were out in two. The northern parts united in 1945 as Württemberg-Baden, while the southern parts became independent states - Baden and Württemberg-Hohenzollern.

In 1952 the latter three states united to form the single state of Baden-Württemberg.

Baden-Württemberg.

Created in 1952 by the union into one state of the previously independent states of Württemberg-Baden, Württemberg-Hohenzollern, and Baden.

The former states of Baden and Württemberg were out in two when the boundary between the French and American zones of occupation was settled in 1945.
The northern parts united in 1945 as Württemberg-Baden, while the southern parts became independent states - Baden and Württemberg-Hohenzollern.
